CITY TRUSTEES IN REGULAR MEETING

Council Awards Contract for New Drawbridge Over Redwood Creek.

Trustee Beeger, who was out of the city, was the only absentee at the meeting of the City Council Tuesday evening. The Trustees who were present evidently would have preferred to have remained at home and rested from the effects of the big celebration, and were not inclined to prolong the session beyond the absolute requirements of public business. That the successful outcome of the celebration was fully appreciated was made plainly evident and the Trustees were loud in their praises of the work of the members ot the committee in charge of the arrangements. While it was conceeded that all had worked hard and to good purpose, the Trustees expressed especial appreciation of the efforts Chairman George W. Lovie of the general committee, who for some weeks has given almost his entire attention to the preparation of the splendid affair, and to him a special vote of thanks was extended. Members of the fire department also came in for praise for the splendid showing made by them.

But two bids were presented for the construction of the lift bridge at the foot of East Bradford street, both of which were from San Francisco firms. The lowest bid was from Moriarity & Perkins, who were given the contract at $2200. This price includes everything but the lumber, which is donated by the Tacoma Lumber Co.

No objection was made to the work of street improvement by T. C. Rice and Hess, McGarvey & Kreiss in district No. 13 and their claims were allowed as follows: T. C. Rice, $7017.00; Hess, McGarvey & Kreiss, $2134.32.

A petition bearing the mames of some 75 citizens and taxpayers of the city, among them some of the prominent business and professional men, asking that the action of the Council refusing to grant the application of Lou Braut for a renewal of his saloon license be reconsidered, was presented and read by the Clerk. Apprarently some of the Trustees were not inclined to look with much favor upon the request, and some moments elapsed before any move was made to take action. Finally Trustee Brown moved that the petition be received and filed. As this motion did not receive an immediate second, Trustee Hynding moved that the prayer of the petition be granted, urging that the character of the names attached to the petition entitled it to that consideration. This motion also failed to receive a second, and Trustee Sampson then announced that he would second the motion of Trustee Brown, which was them put and adopted, after a reminder from the chair that this would in no sense preclude further action Trustee Hynding urged that in justice both to the applicant and the petitioners some definite action should be taken and renewed his motion, again failing to secure a second. Chairman Merrill suggested that the petition be referred to the committee on public health and morals for further consideration, suggesting that a petition bearing the signatures of menn of good standing was always entitled to full consideration. Upon this Trustee Hynding moved that the petition be referred to the committee on public health and morals, and this time easily secured a second to his motion, which was carried without opposition. Thus the matter dropped for the time, with the understanding that the committee would reach a conclusion at as early a date as possible.

The committee on health and morals reported that upon further investigation they would favor the granting of the application of Paul Demartini for a renewal of his saloon license and on motion of Trustee Sampson the permit was granted.

The map of the Eagle Hill Villa Lots, subdivided by C. A. Hooper & Co., and the plat of the subdivision of lot 29 of the Reese tract was approved.

The Clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the construction of the bridge and culvert work on the County Road.

The Clerk was directed to request the owners of property required for the extension of Phelps street to submit at the next meeting of the Council tenders at which they will sell to the city. This action is taken with a view to the avoidance as far as possible of the necessity for condemnation proceedings.

The question of the determination of a site for the new City Hall was brought up, but owing to the absence of Trustee Beeger was put over until the next meeting.

The street committee was requested to draft an ordinance requiring drivers of vehicles to keep to the right of the road on all city streets.

Pretty House Decorations.

There were many prettily decorated homes in this city on the Fourth of July, all of which deserve mention, but in the judgment of many the home of Sheriff Chatham on Arguello street was the prettiest. The work was done by Mrs Chatham and her sister and is a credit to the artistic ability of both of the ladies.

SAW PIONEER CELEBRATIONS

Visit of Mrs. Finger Calls Up Visions of Days of Early Settlers.

Mrs. Mina Finger of Santa Barbara is here on a visit to her old friend Mrs. Murch. Her visit to Redwood City at this time—her home for fifty years previous to her removal to Santa Barbara—brings to mind many happy recolections of days agone, a notable one being Redwood City's first Fourth of July celebration forty-nine years ago. As Mrs. Finger recalls the event it was somewhat primitive, though lacking none of the patriotic features of the present day. And being the pioneer celebration it was an enthusiastic one. The Odd Fellows held a picnic and there was the usual procession and program of exercises. Mrs. Finger and her young husband rode in a farm wagon gaily decorated with bunting and flags and drawn by the two mules that for many years after faithfully served the couple on the farm. Monday the old lady rode in the procession in an automobile It was a happy day for her, with one element of sadness; as she scanned the crowded streets she found none who was present on that day 49 years ago when Redwood City first celebrated.

Mrs. Einstein and the Misses Einstein and Misses Emma Holden, Grace Steinberger and Helen Curran are at Camp Rough and Ready at La Honda. They will remain a month.

REMINISCENSES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

On the Sunday evening following the dedication of the remodeled and refurnished church building—on the 15th of February, 1873—members of the Congregational Church held a meeting in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the formation of the congregation. At this gathering the principal address was made by the pastor, Rev. H. E. Jewett, in the course of which he gave a brief but comprehensive history of the formation of the congregation and its work during the earlier years of its existence. Some of the facts set forth in this account of the pioneer religious efforts among the people of Redwood City will probably prove of more interest at the present time even than at the date when they were prepared. According to the history as given by Mr. Jewett, it was in January of 1861 that Rev. J. S. Zille, at the request of the agent of the Home Missionary Society, first came to the town, which was then without the services of a minister of the gospel of any denomination, and preached in a public hall, meeting with an encouraging reception from the people. Urged on in the good work by the agent of the Missionary Society, Mr. Zille continned his ministrations, and so satisfrctory were the results that during the month of May he brought his family here, and before the end of the month had succeeded in securing the organization of the "First Congregational Society of Redwood City." Membership in this organization was not confined to adherents of any particular denomination, but as set forth in its articles of organization its objects were "to assist in supporting the gospel and to acquire and hold in trust church property for the uses of a Congregational Church whenever such church shall be organized.". Although services were held regularly—except for one or two slight intermissions—it was not until October, 1862, that a sufficiet number of persons could be found who could be induced to join in the formation of the Church, and even then the congregation was composed of people representing different denominations. The real preliminary steps for the formation of the congregation were taken on the 1st of November, 1862, at a meesing held at the home of Rev. Zille at which there was less than a dozen persons dresent. On the following Sunday morning the actual formation of the congregation was accomplished at a meeting held at the Courthouse, with the following as the members: J. S. Rille, Mrs. C. P. Zille, James Dunn, Mrs. Ann Dunn, Mrs. Prudence Merrill, J. J. Dorland, James Cook, Robert McMillan, Mrs. Melissa McMillan, Mrs. Martha Chandler, Mrs. A. A. Thurber and Samuel Churchill. Starting with these 12 members, at the end of its 10 years of work, the congregation found itself with an active membership of 52. During the ten years six pastors had served the congregation, these being: Rev. J. S. Zille, Rev. George Finney, Rev. W. C. Bartlett, Rev. C. H. Pope, Rev. R. B. Snowden and Rev. H.E. Jewett.

Here is another registry of a new arrival in the town: "Born, in Redwood City, Februhry 16th, 1873, to the wife of M. Kreiss, a son."

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

The board of supervisors made a wise selection Tuesday in appointing J. L. Debenedetti tax collector to fill the vacancy made by y the death of C. L. McCracken. He is a young man of fine clerical ability and in every way well qualified to fill the position.

HOW ABOUT FACTORIES.

Now that the Dumbarton cutoff is about to open; now that the $12,000 appropriation by the Government for the deepening and widening of Redwood Creek is an assured fact; now that the Southern Pacific has built a spur track towards the water frontage, thanks to the efforts of our mayor, it would appear that the time was ripe to invite manufacturers to come and locate among us.

We certainly have many advantages to offer them. The best of rail service in connection with water shipping, our central location, in so far that we are half way between San Francisco and San Jose, and only place between the two points that has water communication, which means lower freight rates. These things should appeal to the manufacturer and will appeal to them if properly brought to their notice.

To the employees, we can offer cheaper home sites than any other City on the Peninsula, for the value of real estate in and around Redwood is lower at this time in comparison, than in any other place on the Peninsula. We can offer them lots on the installment plan and our Building and Loan Society will build them their homes.

Let our energetic executive committee of the board of trade think matters over and see what they can do to bring in factories and with them payrolls, the chief essential in the making of a prosperous city.

J. L. DEBENNEDETTI IS TAX COLLECTOR

Board of Supervisors Select a Successor to Dr. Charles L. McCracken.

The board of supervisors held an important session last Tuesday at which much business was transacted. All the members were present.

R. F. Chilcott of the Abstract of Title Co. asked for permission to install a private telephone in the vaults of the recorder's office. The request was granted.

H. F. Butts presented an application for the appointment of Tax Collector. Same was ordered filed.

P. W. Drewsike of San Francisco protested against a certain road on the coastside which he claimed was dangerous to travelers. It was ascertained that the road referred to was a private one and not under the control of the board. The communication was ordered filed.

Frank R. Thompson, city clerk of Oakland, sent a communication in which he advised that the Boards of Supervisors of the several counties surrounding the bay adopt a plan of numbering the motorcycles for the purpose of enforcing obedience to the law by the owners of those machines and protecting human l fe. The communication was accepted and filed.

M. Jensen presented amended plans for improving the courthouse grounds. The plans were accepted and action on those and the other plans presented was continued to the afternoon on motion of Blackburn, seconded by Casey.

Surveyor Neuman stated that he had examined the roadway of the United Railroads in the First township with Supervisor Casey and a representative of the railroad and found that in several places the tracks were not in the center of the road. It was his intention to have another meeting for the purpose of properly locating the tracks. His report was accepted and he was granted further time.

R. F. Chilcott was granted permission to withdraw a map of Hillcrest, filed at a previous meeting, it being his intention to file a new map in the near future.

Francis asked for the approval of the board in installing a sprinkling system in the Fourth Township to sprinkle the road from Halfmoon Bay to Purissima. It was his intention to put in a gasoline pumping plant in the Pilarcitos creek.

T. R. Henderson of San Francisco explained the different methods that might be adopted.

After some discussion the matter was left to Francis to use his own judgment.

James T. O'Keefe appeared on behalf of W. T. Ford who had previously applied for permission to transfer his liquor license from Millbrae to San Bruno. A petition signed by sixty residents of the latter place was read approving of the transfer. Ford testified on his own behalf. He said he was paying $50 a month rent for the building at San Bruno and could not bear the expense unless he could get a license. He said that Casey promised him that he would be given one. The application was deferred until the first meeting in August.

General Geo. Evans Womens aRelief Corps was given an appropriation of $50 to keep theGrand Army plat in Union Cemetery in repair.

A letter was received from the Easton Civic Association thanking the members of the board that had voted to rescind the action previously taken toward granting to A. S. Easton an electric railroad franchise at Easton.

Geo. W. Lovie and H. C, Tuchsen addressed the board asking that it delay the adoption of plans for the improvement of the courthouse grounds until the Board of Trade and City Council had had an oporptunity to examine the different plans submitted and advising with the board on the subject.

On motion of Blackburn, seconded by Casey, it was decided to lay the plans over for thirty days and in the meantime to invite their inspection by all who felt interested in the matter.

The bid of G. G.Blymirey for the Greersburg school was rejected, the board considering the bid too low.

The bid of P. A. Roussell for the doors and frames of the old court house was rejected. It was too low.

J. L. Debenedetti presented an application for the appointment of the vacant tax collectorship.

The matter of filling the office was taken up. J. L. Debenedetti received 3 votes, H. F. Butts one, and Joseph J. Smith one. The clerk was directed to issue Mr. Debenedetti a certificate of election

Attorney Henry Ward Brown presented a petition for the d sincorporation of the South San Francisco Fire District, which territory is now included in the town of South San Francisco.

The matter will be heard at the next meeting.

Superintendent of the County Hospital J. F. Ford was granted the services of Donald MacKenzie, the courthouse superintendent, in the preparation of plans and specifications for improvements and changes in the hospital building.

Superintendent MacKenzie complained that the telephone employes had attempted to cut the linoleum in the courthouse for the purpose of installing conduits.

Maynard Bailey, the district manager of the company, explained the necessity of raising the linoleum but assured the board that it could be done without cutting. In the discussion it was disclosed that there would be need of an exchange or central office in the building for the purpose of calling the different offices.

This announcement was a revelation to the board which had been given to understand by the former manager that the system in the building would be what is known as intercommunicating and not needing the services of a central operator.

On motion of Coleman, seconded by Casey, the matter was laid over, to be referred to the district attorney to be reported on at the next meeting.

Specifications for a concrete bridge over a creek in the first township were adopted.

At the request of Mrs. C. E Cumberson, president of the Womens Club of Redwood City the board agreed to purchase 5000 copies of the Fourth of July edition of the Democrat at the rate of $75 per thousand.

Coleman was granted leave of absence from the county for a period of sixty days.

Assessor Hayward presented the assessment rolls of the county which showed the valuations of the several townships to be as follows:

First Township	$6,932,900 00	Increase. $206,645 00
Second Township	2,813,790 00	Decrease. 2,600,600 00
Third Township	5,668,805 00	Increase. 78,370 00
Fourth Township	1,890,070 00	31,655 00
Fifth Township	948,330 00	7,265 00
City of San Mateo	3,063,260 00	658,180 00
Hillsborough	2,000,000 00
Redwood City	1,436,730 00	38,430 00
Burlingame	993,370 00	64,260 00
South City	982,355 00	8,540 00
Totals	$26,729,610 00	$480,875 00

The increase for the county for the year 1910 is $480,875. The decrease in the Second township is owing to the annexation to the City of San Mateo of Hayward Park, East San Mateo, and the incorporation of Hillsborough.

The rolls were accepted on motion of Blackburn seconded by Coleman and it was decided to meet on the 11th and 18th instant for the purpose of equalizating taxes and that the former rule be adopted of giving three days' notice before raising or lowering assessments.

The board then adjourned and immediately went into session as a board of equalization, again accepting the assessment rolls and adopting the same rules regarding the dates of meetings and the method to be pursued in changing assessments.

Tough on Coastside People.

On July first the Government cancelled the mail route between this city and Pescadero. The Knight Stage Company has carried the mail on this route for 51 years not missing a single day. It is the intention of the Government to have all mail matter go by way of the Ocean Shore Railroad. However this will work a hardship on the people of La Honda, San Gregorio and Pescadero for the service will not be near as good as by the old route. There is a loud wail from the residents of those districts affected. Charles Kreiss will deliver the mail from the local office to the Woodside postoffice in connection with his other duties.

We had a glorious time here on the Fourth. Every one seemed to be happy and made themselves happy and burned lots of firecrackers, In the evening we had a fine display of fireworks. Everybody attended the dance at Union Hall. The music was fine and all hands had the time of their lives.

L. Woodard and wife left Wednesday morning for Berkeley.

Frank Evans and wife are over from San Jose and had a good time at the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mariner were up from Torquay

Mrs. Killan of Eureka is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. Mariner at H. G Steele's.

Mrs. Ed Dickerman is getting along fine after her hard sick spell.

C. E. Reit is head keeper at the Pigeon Point Light House.

Geo P. Ellis has not found out who was so sweet with his honey yet.

Dr and Mrs. Thompson are in San Francisco for a few days.

James A. Harvey we are informed is running for supervisor of Seaside district at Santa Cruz. We do not hesitate to say that he is the right man for the place as we have known him for 25 years and always found him on the square. Cast your vote for Jim Harvey and you will not make any mistake.

Mr. Bosthoff is in San Francisco trying to get ay cook for theCommercial Hotel.

Uncle Loren Coburn and wife have gone to Redwood to do some more courting, he thinks that he has done more courting than any one of his age in the county. He says it seems queer that after working for 50 years to save up what he has that now he has to fight to keep his nephews from beating him out of it. in his old age. It does seem wrong the way they are trying to get it away from him. He says that if he had been a poor man they would not. have bothered him nor would they have helped to support him in his old age. Does it look right for any young man to beat an old man out of his hard earned property We say No.

Geo. McCory the popular Santa Cruz driver is in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dotta are in town from Swanton.

Miss Caroline Littlefield is visiting her friends the Misses Broadwell at Ranch Glen Laurel.

Mr. and Mrs .Billie Rose have returned from San Francisco where they spent the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W Good spent the Fourth in Redwood

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Woodman are visiting Mrs. Woodman's parents Mr and Mrs. H. L. Good

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGillan are visiting Mrs. Kate Ward.

Redwood Always Wins.

A classy game of ball was played on the local diamond Sunday, July 3d, when the Gantner & Matterns went down before the local nine. The visitors put up a good game up to the sixth inning, when they went to pieces, our boys getting eight runs. In the eighth inning the visitors picked up five runs, making the score five to eight.

The game of the season, a game that will be long remembered was the one played on the 4th of July with the San Mateo boys. Notwithstanding the fact that the local nine have shown time and again, that they are better than the best amature teams in the State, the San Mateo boys felt confident that they could take their measure. They started out fine ,scoring one run in the first inning and another in the second inning, after which our boys settled down to hard work, which soon told. The visitors were defeated five to two.

One Good Solution.

There has been quite a little written about how the prize fighters came to be forced out of this state. Perhaps the whole truth will be slow in coming to light, but the following is said to be a part of the truth:

There was one fight arena in this county which had the support of our officials including the district attorney. Another promotor sought to obtain a like privilege which was opposed by the man possessing the only arena and was opposed by the people living near the site of the proposed new establishment. This led to investigations and wrangles before the supervisors. Mr. Henry Ward Brown took an interest in the matter and went into the law very deeply getting decisions rendered by eastern courts covering prize fighting and sparring matches. Our district attorney was forced into a corner and had to admit the fight game was illegal. Mr. Brown prepared a legal brief covering the matter which we are told found its way into the hands of those opposing the game in San Francisco, and by them was sent to Governor Gillett, furnishing the legal basis for his action.

Sid Hester's desire to share in Coffroth's special privilege ended in disaster to fight promotors whereat some are weeping and others rejoicing.—San Mateo Leader.

GOLF, TENNIS AND GAYETY MAKE THE FOURTH WHOLLY PLEASANT.

The annual Fourth of July celebration of the Menlo Country Club took the form this year of golf and tennis tournaments, with the usual fireworks and supper in the evening. Throughout the afternoon the clubhouse and surrounding grounds were crowded with an ever attentive audience, as a special wire from Reno reported the progress of the fight, round by round. Sam Shortridge officiated as announcer.

The sports started at 10 a. m. with an eighteen-hole handicap medal score tournament (electic for nine holes) open to members and their friends. Messrs DuVal Moore of Burlingame and Sprague of Woodside drawing for the club cup. At 2 p. m. a pigeon shoot, followed by a nine-hole two-ball mixed foursome handicap tournament for members and their friends. This seemed to exercise a great attraction for the younger set, the cup being won by Miss Sprague and W. von Schrader, while among the runners up were Misses Merrit Reid, Florence Hopkins, Gertrude Hopkins, Genevieve Leonard, Beatrice Nickel and Lee Givven and Messrs. Ed Eyre, F. Slade, A. Leonard, DuVal Moore, R. Ryland and S. Hopkins.

In the evening, after the fireworks, there was a putting contest on the lawn in front of the clubhouse, which was brilliantly lit with electric bulbs. The trophy was won by Miss Merrit Reid, with Miss Leonard as runner up.

As usual the supper was above par and reflected much credit on the committee in charge. The tables under the drooping boughs of the oaks were lighted with myriads of lanterns, the light from the assem led autos and red and green fire lending additional charm to the scene.

The new officers will be elected on the 9th of this month.

EAGLE SCREAMS FOR REDWOOD

People of San Mateo County Unite in Big Celebration.

DEDICATE COURTHOUSE

Redwood City Holds Mammoth Observance of Natal Day of American Nation.

The Eagle screamed in Redwood City last Monday, and the great American bird certainly screamed loudly. Not but the Fourth was "safe and sane" enough, but there was with it the full flow of genuine American enthusiasm, tempered with the good sense on the part of both the old and young to demonstrate that in this city at least it was not necessary for the law to intervene to enforce reason. Although no limit had been placed by the authorities upon the character of fireworks or the method of their use, good judgment and reason prevailed among all classes and fortunately there was a complete absence of accident to either person or property. At the same time Young America took advantage of the liberty allowed to vent his patriotic enthusiasm to the fullest extent.

That the big celebration was a perfect success was admitted upon all sides. Residents of the city congratulated themselves upon the splendid entertainment offered their visitors, while the visitors congratulated their hosts upon the entertainment conferred. Among the thousands who gathered within the gates of the city, not alone from all sections of San Mateo County, but from neighboring counties as well, not one could be heard to express aught but praise and satisfaction for the day.

And Redwood City certainly demonstrated her ability to entertain a vast throng of people in a worthy manner. Even as early as Saturday, small knots of visitors, the vanguard of the vast throng, began to arrive, and with the opening of Sunday morning it was made evident that the hospitality of the city was to be taxed. But it was when the excursion trains on Monday morning began to unload their hundreds of visitors from every direction, that the completeness of the arrangements of the General Committee, assisted by the representatives of the various Fraternal organizations, was made evident. As the throngs disembarked, they were taken in hand by representatives of one or another of the fraternal organizations and escorted to headquarters provided for their reception, where they were provided with handsomely printed programs of the day's events and informed of the provisions made for their entertainment.

All morning the members of the General Committee were active in making sure of the completeness of every detail. But the busiest man of all was Director General George W. Lovie—he was always in demand and seemingly everywhere at the same time. His was the master mind that had planned the celebration and worked out its details and to him came the appeal in every emergency. To him was referred every unexpected contingency, and promptly and effectively was it solved.

While every member of the general committee is entitled to praise for the allotted share of the work, it is due to Chairman Lovie that the full credit for the completeness of the work is due, and on every side has since been heard expressions of this appreciation.

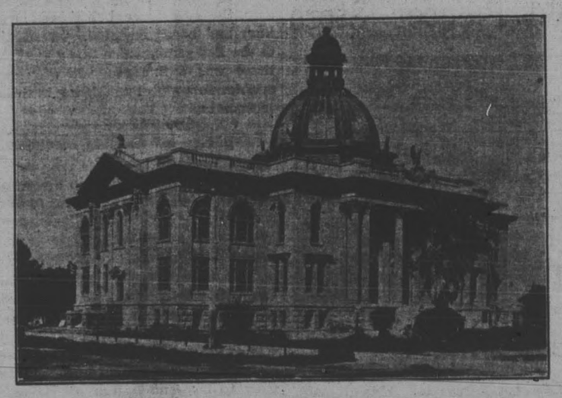
One of the especially attractive features of the celebration was the presence of the soldiers of the Second Battalion of the Fifth Regiment of the National Guard. Arriving here on Sunday morning, these soldiers of the State Guard were with us for the greater part of two days, and the appearance of these young men in their military habiliments put just the needed martial appearance to the streets of the city. And the conduct of these young men while in our midst was such as to win for them praises on every side. Major Holtum certainly has reason to feel proud of his command, not only for the perfection of their military appearance but for their soldierly and gentlemanly behavior.

The opening feature of the day was the parade, one of the largest and most attractive ever witnessed in San Mateo County. That its various features were thoroughly appreciated was shown by the rounds of applause which greeted every division from the throngs which lined the long route of march. Under the efficient direction of Grand Marshal Robert S. Chatham every detail of the immense procession had been perfectly arranged and as each division wheeled into line from its appointed place there was not the slightest evidence of a hitch or misunderstanding. Led by the splendid band of the Second Artillery, U. S. A., the three companies of the Second Battalion of the Fifth Infantry, under command of Major G. L. Holtum, acted as escort for the Float Columbia, splendidly personified by Miss May Cook, who was supported by representatives of the Army and Navy in the persons of Ralph Mengels and Chas. McCracken. These were followed by handsomely decorated automobiles carrying members of the City Council and the Board of Supervisors.

The second and third divisions of the parade were given over entirely to representatives of the various fraternal organizations, each of which were represented by strong delegations, and several of which provided handsome emblematic floats. While all of these were attractive and evidenced much care and study in their preparation, it is generally conceded that the members of Bonita Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West are entitled to especial credit both for the handsome appearance of their float and its emblematic design. Another float attached to the third division which should receive especial mention was the representation of a handsomely decorated flying machine prepared by Mr. J. Rynal. The Fourth division was given over entirely to the firemen, and Redwood City's fire laddies certainly have occasion to feel proud of the showing made.

Nor must the splendid spirit of some of our neighbors be overlooked. Especially is this true of San Mateo, South San Francisco and San Bruno, from each of which places came delegations ready to add to the great street show. From San Mateo came the members of San Mateo Lodge of Elks, occupying a number of handsomely decorated automobiles, while South City sent a float appropriately representing some of her leading industries.

Not only did the San Mateo Lodge of Elks turn out in strong force in the parade, but they managed to add to it the one special attraction of real fun, to provide for the spectators the spice of mirth. Heading their parade of handsome automobiles, walked a platoon of fun makers, introducing a water wagon stunt that kept the people along the line of march in an almost constant uproar of mirth. Capturing one of Street Superintendent Dickey's water wagons they soon provided the necessary decorations and deployed their numerous fun making members, clad in clown costumes as an escort. And these San Mateo Elks have a herd who know how to make the real spice of life. With their lookout in advance every few moments some prominent resident was discovered who could be impressed to contribute to the sport and he was immediately siezed upon each capture adding fresh merriment. Among those who contributed to the fun as members of the "Water Wagon Stunt" were the following: C. A. Lawton, Ed Leary, Geo. Dobel, Harry Pinkham, Charles Hackmeier, Ed Amereau, Geo. Mason, William Matthews, John Brunner, Geo. Berry, Harry Miller, Hale Warn, John Hoey, Ed Hessler, Art. Bliaich, Walt Loveland and Fieldy Waggoner. Among the automobiles carrying the main delegation of the lodge were those of Messrs. Newbert, Toepke, Lawrence, Eva, McKendrick, Shields, O'Brien, Ross, Plymire, Hynding, Wisnom, Thomas, Landscheit, Hoffman, Marston and Debenedetti.



San Mateo County's New Courthouse

San Bruno was represented by the Fig Leaf Club in their float Comet, represented by an amusingly decorated coach occupied by the members in comical costumes. The characters represented by the officers of the Club were admirably sustained as follows: chief mimmic, John Kirk; high muckalora, F. A. Carstenson; shylock, W. C. Henry; eucalyptus, Cap E Luttringer; hybiscus, V. G. Hanks; sequoia, C. P Henry; herald, Charles Cramer The coach used by the Club is said to have a history, the points of which as related by the officers in charge of the delegation would indicate that it was built in New Jersey and came to the coast across the plains in 1863, being then the property of the late Senator Leland Stanford. It was a notable vehicle at that time, being the first private coach in the state. At present it is the property of A. D. Jenevein of San Bruno, and was loaned to the club by its proud owner especially for this occasion as an evidence of his friendly feeling for Redwood City.

Following closely upon the dismissal of the parade, came the literary program incidental to the proper observance of this most important day in the calendar of the Nation. Appropriately these were held in the grounds in front of the magnificent new court house, the completion of which was one of the underlying motives which had attracted the multitude of residents of San Mateo County to their seat of local government. Here the throng which occupied every vantage of the grounds and extended well back to the street were called to order by L. P. Behrens, chairman of the committee on literary exercises, who presided as chairman of the day, introducing the various speakers.

After an overture by the well drilled musicians of the Second Artillery Band, the blessing of the Almighty was involked by Rev. Father J. J. Sullivan, pastor of Mount Carmel Church. As the first speaker of the day, Chairman Behrens introduced B. Hayward, of Pescadero, one of the few still with us of the grand old pioneers in the settlement of the county. For a short time Mr. Hayward entertained his audience with tales of the experiences of the pioneer settlers, describing the appearances of the section as he first saw it at a time when its settlement first began, and telling of the few scattered hamlets of that time. Mr. Hayward was followed by Hon. W. J. Martin, of South San Francisco, who devoted a short time to predictions of the future lying before this, one of the greatest of the counties of the state.

The chief speaker of the day was Hon. Arthur M. Free, District Attorney of Santa Clara County, who delivered an eloquent and thoughtful oration. First Mr. Free dwelt upon the circumstances leading up to the promulgation of the Declaration of Independence and the founding of the Nation which was so soon destined to become one of the world's greatest powers, making it clear that it was not for mere gain or vain glory that our forefathers contended, but solely for the great underlying principle of liberty and equality before the law. Following this he referred fittingly to the dedication of the new courthouse and its occupancy as the seat of county government, urging his hearers to a higher and nobler citizenship.

At intervals during the exercises, the audience was entertained with splendid vocal selections by the Redwood City Choral Society, under the leadership of Prof. Otis M. Carrington. At the close of the program the audience was dismissed with a benediction by Rev. Thomas Leak, pastor of the Methodist Church. An intermission in the day's program was then allowed in order that the people might avail themselves of the opportunity of refreshing the inner man.

One of the chief attractions of the afternoon was the baseball game between the teams of this city and San Mateo, who met on the local field to decide the outcome of the third of a series of games in which so far neither had gained an advantage. The public interest in this contest was well evidenced by the attendance which occupied every available seat in the large grand stands. And here again the Redwood City boys demonstrated their ability to cope with the best of their opponents, winning a well contested game by a score of 5 to 2. No attempt was made at a display of public fireworks, but instead the people were invited to enjoy a splendid dance at the old gymnasium, which for the past four years has done duty as a temporary courthouse. Here the strains of music took the place of the busy hum of official life, and the devotees of Terpsichore replaced the dignity of public business.

The committees in charge of the work of preparing for this big celebration, to whose efforts are due the success of this most notable event in the history of the city, were composed of the following well known residents and public spirited citizens of Redwood City.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—George W. Lovie, D. R. Stafford, P. P. Chamberlain, W. J. Plump, C. J. Hynding, J. N. Winter, R. F. Chilcott.

PROMOTION—D. R. Stafford, Carl Muller J. E. Harris.

RECEPTION—Hon. Geo. A. Merrill, Hon. Geo. H. Buck, Hon. E. F. Fitzpatrick, L. B. Thomas, Mrs. C. E. Cumberson.

PARADE—J. F. Dwyer, Henry Lamb, J. N. Winter, Mrs. F. E. George Mrs. Geo. W. Winter.

LITERARY EXERCISES—L. P. Behrens, M. L. Benson, J. V. Swift, Miss L. Miner, Miss L. E. McCarthy.

ACCOMMODATIONS and PRIVILEGES—W. J. Plump, R. F. Chilcott, M. Simmons, Car Muller, Mrs. Dora Wilson.

BALL—Miss Lydia Miner, Mrs. F. E. George, P. P. Chamberlain, J. F. Dwyer, Fred Becker.

TOURNAMENT—J. N. Winter, Bert Mansfield, A. J. Stalter, James McGlynn, George West.

Much of the attractive appearance of the city during the holiday season was undobutedly due to the artistic public decorations which were given much appreciative comment by the visitors. The arrangement of these decorations was the work of the Weeks, Howe, Emerson, Co., of San Francisco, whose services were secured by the general committee.

The Fourth of July celebration at Vista Grande Park under the direction of of the fire department was a big success, the attendance being even larger than had been expected. In addition to the ball game, which was a good one, there was a fine program of athletic events, followed by dancing in the afternoon and evening.

Preparing for Railway Extension.

In the foothills at the rear part of the Hooper tract grading operations are being conducted for a roadway to extend from the old Hawes ranchhouse (Yount place) thence southwesterly back beyond the stone wall and through adjoining property to the Canyada. It is reported that a working agreement has been entered into between the Hooper interests and the Peninsula Railway for the joint construction of this road, the railway company to have an option on its use if desired at any future time. The operation of blasting out the roadway is conducted vigorously wherever obstacles necessitate and the reports can be heard distinctly at times from many parts of town.

Bridge Foreman J. W. Stephenson and a large crew are busy preparing foundations for the concrete work along the Southern Pacific right-of-way between the railroad depot and Mound street. The construction operations will be very extensive, as indicated by the amount of material being assembled on the railroad property lying between the depot and the county road, where there is a new sidetrack, crew train, foreman's car, and several train loads of bridge timbers and other material. As heretofore agreed by and with the town trustees, the railroad right-of-way will be bridged for its full width of eighty feet between property lines and four tracks put in operation, necessitating the construction of two additional tracks, one on each side of the tracks now in use, and for which the ties are now on the ground. It is estimated that the work outlined will take three months or more to complete.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

Help the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Redwood City.

Mrs. A. H. Lanfear, Heller and Chestnut streets, Redwood City, Cal., says: "We consider Doan's Kidney Pill an excellent remedy and can give them the strongest recommendation. About three years ago they were first used in our family, when we lived in Buffalo, N. Y. Their use in my case brought prompt and positive relief from pain and lameness in the back and other distressing difficulties due to weak kidneys. To say the least, the results were gratifying. Another person in our household who suffered from backache found Doan's Kidney Pills very effective and has used them off and on since then with good results."
